USPA NEWS - Dr. Salvatore Pignataro,

as Secretary General of the International Human Rights Commission (IHRC), on behalf of the Management Board, I deeply appreciate your publication on domestic violence. For this reason we are happy to communicate free moral advocacy and the use of IHRC and IHRC Child, Young and Woman departments logos. It is no coincidence that we approved your project relating to combating violence against women, young people and children and you were appointed IHRC Commissioner with the role of National Coordinator in Italy of the IHRC Observatory for Monitoring, Protection and Safeguarding of Children, Youth and Women. But at the same time, recognizing your professional qualities, we have also entrusted you with the supervision of similar observers being implemented in other states.

The subject of domestic violence covered in your book is a much debated and wide spread topic all over the world. And each of us must be the protagonist for a radical change of course, so that the world is more concordant and puts values and respect for the person at the center.

Aware of your preparation, your study and your motivation, therefore, we will help you to promote your publication internationally so that it can be useful in contrasting the various forms of violence and added to a better world just as our motto says "Because what we do today, we do for Generations". With sincere feelings of esteem and appreciation.

Nota of the General Secretariat of the International Commission for Human Rights.

Gentile Dott. Salvatore Pignataro, in the quality of the General Secretariat of the International Commission for Human Rights (IHRC), the name of the Consular Council, appreciates the privilege of its domestic publications. To motivate us to communicate the free moral patrol and use of the IHRC and the Bambini, Giovani and Donne departments. Not a case that we approve of your project related to violence against donors, children and children and the status of the IHRC nominee with the National Coordinator of the IHRC in Italy for the protection of the monarchy.

, dei giovani e delle donne. But at the same time, we recognize our professional quality, but we also believe in the supervision of analog supervisors in the course of accreditation of other states. Argument of domestic violence treats his book è an argument deeply debated and diffused throughout the world. And no sooner had a protagonist appear than a radical rotation, because the world was more concordant and met with the center and value and the respect of the person. Consideration of your prepositions, of your studio and of your motivations, which, in turn, promotes this publication to international level affiliate can be compared to the various forms of violent promotions in a world that has no value at all. Let's go, let's decide for Generation ". Concerned neo-hippies and their global warming, I'll tell you.
